

Tri-Village Buzz Says Farewell to Christian

Patti King and Christian Verigin

Christian Verigin was Editor of the Tri-Village Buzz Newsletter for six years and has now officially "retired". Working full time, with a husband and two young boys at home, an active member of the Wasa Lions and owner of a business... it's not a wonder she decided to throw in the towel!

When Christian took over the role as Editor six years ago, she gave the paper a new look and in the process had to teach herself the computer program to design the paper. Christian was acknowledged for her contribution to the community and was awarded "Volunteer of the Year" in 2008. She has seen the paper and the community through many changes and her commitment to getting the paper out every month has not gone unrecognized.

Patti King, Secretary /Treasurer for the Tri-Village Buzz passed along sentiments from Florida, "We all want to thank you and remind you how much you are appreciated. Our community is very grateful for all you have done."

On behalf of the Tri-Village Buzz Newsletter Team, the communities of Wasa, Ta Ta Creek and Skookumchuk and countless citizens in Cranbrook, Kimberley and Alberta we would like to thank you Christian, for all of your hard work and dedication over the past six years. Pass on your messages of farewell and appreciation to Christian at: verigins@shaw.ca

CANDIDATE ANNOUNCEMENTS FOR RDEK AREA E DIRECTOR

Jane Walter

I wish to announce to the community that I, Jane Walter am standing for the position of Director for Area E in the upcoming Regional District of East Kootenay (RDEK) By-Election, April 16th.

For those of you who don't know me. I was the wife of Norm Walter who was the previous director. For those who know me I want to reassure you that I will champion the same causes and work in the same tradition as Norm. I will continue his legacy. Living with Norm gave me an understanding of elected governance and administration. He discussed everything with me.

Norm and I shared the same values of service to our community. We both enjoyed working with people. I know what needs to be done and how to do the job.

I have been a volunteer with various organizations: Schools, Girl Guides, the Wasa Lions, the Kimberley Food Bank, the Accordion Fest, and the Wasa Pancake Breakfasts. I was a member of the executive of the founding board of the St Mary Valley Rural Residents Association and currently am active in the organization.

I know the people in Area E could always rely on Norm to return their calls, listen to their concerns and try to solve their problems. I intend to continue this tradition.

Maintaining the legacy, being true to the people.

I welcome your support in this campaign. If you wish to volunteer to help, please contact Sharon Prinz 250.422.3227.

Jane Walter - 250.427.2577

Jim Westwood

I would like to introduce myself to the electorate of Area E.

I have been on the APC (Advisory Planning Commission) for Area E for the past 7 years and have been the chairman for the past 6 years. Since December of 2010, I have been the Acting Alternate Director for Area E.

I have lived in the area since 1998 and presently live north of Fort Steele as well as own land in the Lazy Lake area east of Wasa.

Since moving down to this area from Edmonton, where I spent 29 years with the Shur-Gain division of Maple Leaf Foods, I have worked for several companies. I am currently working in Cranbrook at Home Depot, prior to this I worked at Wasa Building Supplies.

My intentions are to continually work and represent the people of Area E and to guide the APC and the EAAC in their decisions, which will best serve the interest of the people in Area E, while keeping within the parameters as set by RDEK.

As Area E grows, the rural development becomes more complex in which case, the public needs to be consulted as to what will fit the environment and how we will manage the water supply going forward.

I ask for your vote in the upcoming By-Election of April 16, 2011 so I may continue to serve and represent the people of Area E.

Seniors' Happy Gang

By Ruth Dovel

Our first meeting of the year was held January 24th with twelve members present. The following executive took over:

- President: Fred Gillespie
- Secretary: Brenda Schreiber
- Treasurer: Margie Mc Mahn.

Old Business: The Christmas brunch at the Heritage Inn was enjoyed by all as was the fun gift exchange. One hundred dollars was given to the food bank and one hundred dollars to the Church to help cover the costs of our activities there. Dues for the year were paid.

Plans for the February 21st meeting were made. They include a pot luck at noon, then a meeting followed by a Crokinole contest.

The Fifty-fifty was won by Marge Marvel.

We played a game of baseball with the ladies pitted against the men. The results were quite close once the ladies got the knack of the game.

We discussed our March get-together which includes bowling in Kimberley followed by a supper out. Dates will be set up and Fred will let us all know.

Also there will be carpet bowling in the Church upstairs Tuesday evenings. New players are welcome. Phone Fred at 422 9255. Our January get-together ended with coffee, cookies and gossip.

Hints From Vi

By Vi Cockell

Hello readers, I hope things are going well for you. Spring is in the air! The pussy willows are out and I've noticed some of the male birds plumage are starting to brighten.

1. To remove build up of furniture polish, steep 2 tea bags for 10 minutes. Take a soft cloth and wipe the area well with the tea mixture. May have to repeat several times.
2. Tea bags will also cover scratches on furniture. Rub the area with a wet tea bag, allow to dry and buff lightly.
3. To clean cutting board surfaces fill a squirt bottle with undiluted household 3% hydrogen peroxide [H2O2], fill another bottle with white vinegar. Spray the surface with H2O2, wipe with a clean dry cloth, spray with vinegar and wipe again. That's all there is to it!
4. Make home made Scouring Powder which cleans just about anything including pots, pans, appliances, tile floors and bathroom fixtures. Mix the following ingredients and store in a sealed container. Use it as you would any powdered cleaner.:
1 cup of baking soda 1 cup of salt 1 cup borax
5. To bake a moist ham empty a can of COCA COLA into a baking pan, wrap the ham in foil and place in the baking pan and bake for 30 minutes. Just before the ham is finished remove foil and allowing the drippings to mix with the COCA COLA for a sumptuous brown gravy.

Till next time have a great month and remember...

GYM HOURS AND INFO

IS YOUR RELIGION OR YOUR FAITH THE BEST AND TRUEST ONE?

It is common to believe that, because one subscribes to a certain doctrine or religious belief, it is necessarily the best and the truest one, while all the others are not as good or as truthful.

Since we strive at the Ashram to spread a message of tolerance and acceptance concerning all the Faces of God, I would like to share with you a short Buddhist story that was told to me by my own Master, ShriSwamiHamsanandaSarasvati, many decades ago, a story that has really helped me to go beyond tolerance through acceptance.

Here is this story: Several citizens got into a heated argument about God and the different religions, and none could agree to a common answer. So they came to the Lord Buddha to find out exactly what God looked like.

The Buddha asked his disciples to get a magnificent, large elephant and four blind men. He then brought the blind men to the elephant and told them to find out what the elephant "looked" like.

The first man touched the elephant's leg and reported that the elephant "looked" like a pillar. The second man touched the elephant's tummy and said that an elephant was like a wall. The third blind man touched the elephant's ear and said that it was a piece of cloth. The fourth man held the tail and described the elephant as a piece of rope. And all of them ran into a heated argument about the "appearance" of the elephant.

The Buddha asked the citizens: "The four blind men touched the elephant, but each of them gives a different description of the animal. Which answer is right?"

"All of them are right," was the reply.

"Why? Because everyone can only see part of the elephant. They are not able to see the whole animal. The same applies to God and religions. No one will see Him completely." By this parable, the Lord Buddha teaches that we should respect all other legitimate religions and their beliefs.

In the same way, it is good to enlarge the vision that one has about the Divine and to include in that vision the faith of all those that do not directly share one's own religious belief.

No matter what, it is certain that the merciful Divine is One and the same for all beings. If we belong to God, God does not belong to us.

May your faith and your prayers join, in spirit, the faiths and prayers of all men and women united in the principle of Unity and Oneness of God.

God bless you all!

Congratulations, you made it through the winter... well we're almost there!! Let's read a book or two before we start gardening or holidaying or whatever! Thanks to June Clark for recommending the following two books:

- LIVE TO TELL

by Lisa Gardner "A gripping Gardner never sensationalizes her story and the book ends with a resolution that is creatively and emotionally appropriate."

BOOKLIST - STARRED REVIEW

- BEYOND REACH

by Karin Slaughter "The three protagonists get under your skin and you'll never forget the shocking end. Slaughter has written her way into my top-five list of living mystery writers."

CLEVELAND RAIN DEALER

Our Choices

- FIRE IN THE BLOOD

by Irene Nemerovsky "Nemerovsky brilliantly depicts a closed-in, inward looking community, then gives what happens in it universal resonance by exhibiting not only what people do to each other but what the passing of time does to us all."

THE SUNDAY TIMES

- NOT MY DAUGHTER

by Barbara Delinsky "Delinsky proves once again a perceptive observer of family relationships...a tautly emotional story of mothers and daughters."

THE BOSTON GLOBE

- THE INDEPENDENCE OF MISS MARY BENNET

by Colleen McCullough "Mary (one of 5 sisters) is quietly celebrating her independence, having nursed her ailing mother for many years. Marriage may be far from her mind but what if she were to meet the one man whose own fiery articles infuriate the politicians and industrialists? And if when she starts to ask similar questions, she unwittingly places herself in great danger? A good read!."

We have several other new books available. Come and browse, we know you will find something to your liking. Please submit the title, author and a short comment. This could be a book from the library or one you would suggest we purchase. Drop your suggestion off at the library or email: brauch@shaw.ca

Shows start at 7:30 pm
Wasa Hall

Our thanks go out to Sharon Prinz (Africa - January 26th) and Naomi Miller (Brazil and Chile - February 9th) for two great shows!!! Both presentations featured excellent photos and interesting commentaries. We certainly get to enjoy some exciting, adventuresome and educational trips.

On February 23rd we enjoyed superb photography with Cheryl Warren Bradford's "Seasonal Photographs" We are privileged to live in an area of such beauty and grandeur; seeing it through Cheryl's camera lens reinforced that thought over and over.

There have been about 45 to 50 people attending each session with the silver collection averaging about $90.00 per evening. Every little bit helps in the maintenance of the Hall. Thank-you. Our next shows sound very exciting:

- Wednesday, March 9th
Dr. Alan Askey and Bill Wilson will take us floating down the Nahanni River, Alan shared the following information:

FLOATING DOWN THE NAHANNI RIVER

In July 2009, Alan and Marite Askey and Bill Wilson drove to Fort Simpson, North West Territories, for a two week ,150 mile raft trip down the South Nahanni River, in the newly expanded Nahanni National Park, a UN Heritage Site. This was a wilderness trip, complete with Grizzly Bears and Dall Sheep. It was organized by Nahanni River Adventures to celebrate R.M. Patterson's historic canoe trips 1927 to 1929 on this river as described in his classic, "A Dangerous River,"

- Wednesday, March 23rd
Derm and Suzanne Kennedy:
NORTH TO ALASKA

June and Scott Owen had to postpone their originally scheduled presentation of the Panama Canal. Derm and Suzanne Kennedy very kindly agreed to fill the void. "North to Alaska"; their latest kayak adventure will entertain us that evening.

HISTORY BYTES

BY NAOMI MILLER

THE MAN WHO BUILT THE WINDSOR HOTEL

Robert Mather was only fourteen when he was sent from Victoria to Walla Walla to join a pack train bringing supplies to Wild Horse Creek. His obituary, written by PROSPECTOR editor A.B. Grace, tells us that young Robert came in with supplies each spring, assisted an aunt with a small store during the summer, and returned to Victoria to go to school in the winter. When he was nineteen his aunt died. Robert inherited the store and a small ranch at Cherry Creek. He worked in the East Kootenay each summer and returned to Victoria in the winter until he found a bride. In January 1882 he married Mary Jane Dalgardno in Port Townsend, Washington. They trekked with a pack train to Galbraith's Ferry (later named Fort Steele) as soon as the trail was passable. Those horses were his to use for future freighting contracts here in this district.

Robert pre-empted land adjacent to his Cherry Creek Ranch, expanding from 100 - 1000 acres. He built his own cable ferry across the Kootenay River about six miles upriver from John Galbraith's pay ferry and he brought in a portable sawmill to make lumber from the trees cut while clearing his ranch. When his sea captain father delivered a small herd of Scottish long horned cattle to Hope, Robert hired Ktunaxa men to drive the cattle over the Dewdney Trail to Cherry Creek. Every single animal arrived safely.

Robert vacillated between the ranch and Fort Steele. He moved his sawmill closer to town to create lumber to build a hotel. The HOTEL DALGARDNO opened in early 1894. Next, Robert had his ranch surveyed into building lots to become Dalgardno City. In October he moved his family out to a new log home and sublet the managing of the hotel and restaurant in town. No lots sold at his dream location. A fire damaged the Cherry Creek house so after a few months they were back in town.

Mary Jane was a good wife in those pioneering years. She fed hired hands, helped make hay, grew a small garden, kept a milk cow and some chickens, and raised a big family. She travelled to the home of her parents in Port Townsend for the delivery of her first two babies. When she returned via train to Golden, she was met by a Ktunaxa lady who carried the infant the rest of the way home. Robert and Mary Jane were community minded. A temporary stage was erected in their hotel dining room for school Christmas concerts directed by Miss Bailey. They also hosted some lovely dinners and dances, usually with a Scottish theme.

Robert spearheaded the formation of the Fort Steele Mining Association, a forerunner of the Board of Trade. In 1897 the population exploded. Mather doubled the size of the hotel, changed the name to WINDSOR, and built a livery stable and ice house behind. His brother Harry joined him to help in the hotel as bar keeper and when the Presbyterians obtained a resident minister, Robert Mather was on the committee to build their church. Mary Jane led the ladies auxiliary raising funds for the new building.

Robert had become a Mason at age twenty one and was delighted to become a founding member of North Star Lodge # 30 .

Robert Duncan Mather died May 16, 1908 and was laid to rest beside his son Earl who had drowned four years earlier. One newspaper extended sympathy to Mrs. Mather and six daughters, while the other said, "Robert is survived by his wife and seven daughters." Either way, Robert and Mary Jane did their bit to keep the new school viable.
